Heavy Winds Rip Kansas, Damage High

Hutchinson, Kan., June 22 (AP) — A storm front of high winds, heavy rains and damaging hail swept across west central Kansas yesterday and last night causing widespread property havoc and at least one death.

Hardest hit was Hutchinson, a city of 40,000, by a storm which Chief of Police Carl Spriggs described as a small tornado. Wind gusts reached 98 miles per hour.

Killed by Roof

Dead was Steve Chlentzos, about 35, killed by the roof of a nearby Hutchinson truck terminal which was blown off into his home. His wife and son were injured. Several semi-trailer trucks were overturned.

Two motorists were trapped in a car for more than an hour by live wires until rescued by repairmen. Lightning knocked out a power transformer, darkening the city for 45 minutes during the height of the storm which struck late at night.

Several other persons were hospitalized here, none believed seriously hurt. Damage ran high, Spriggs said.

Rainfall measured an inch until a gust of wind blew the rain gauge away at the weather station.

Windows Shattered

Thirty-five fires, most of them touched off by broken, tangled wires broke out within a period of two hours.

Fifty windows were shattered on the west side of the 12-story Baker Hotel in downtown Hutchinson. Store windows were broken and merchandise drenched.

Trees and branches littered streets, and in some instances blocked them.

Several tornado funnels were spotted elsewhere in Kansas, one near Belleville, another southwest of Beloit, and a third north of Oakley, all in open country.

A severe thunderstorm with hail and winds up to 80 miles an hour damaged wheat in the vicinity of Hays.

Man Injured Fatally

Cortland, N. Y., June 22 (AP) — Clarence E. Petett, 20, of Blodgett Mills, was injured fatally today when his automobile swerved off Route 11 south of the city and struck two trees.

Firemen Act Fast, Police Saw Smoke

Police detection of smoke and prompt fire department action averted a serious fire at Kingston High School early today when a rubbish blaze heavily damaged a one-story brick addition in the rear of the auditorium and burned into the main boiler room under the stage.

Deputy Chief Howard Myer, in charge of the city's fire-fighting forces, said the cause was undetermined.

The fire department received a call at 2:29 a. m. from police headquarters, located directly

Council Votes To Withdraw Tunnel Pickets

At what was described by one who attended a special meeting Friday morning of the Ulster-Sullivan Building Trades Council as a "stormy session", it was voted 13 to 5 to withdraw the pickets from the tunnel job at Lowe's Corners.

The job at the lower end of the tunnel project was first picketed by members of Local 17, International Hod Carriers and Common Laborers, when C. H. "Hank" Mayer, former business agent of the Local, sought to secure a new agreement from the contractors and failed in that effort.

30,000 U.S. Troops Due To Pull Out

Ike, Kishi Talks Pushed Decision

Washington, June 22 (AP) — About 30,000 U. S. ground combat troops will start pulling out of Japan next month in accordance with a decision reached by President Eisenhower and Japanese Prime Minister Kishi.

A joint communiqué issued last night at the end of three days of consultations between the two leaders announced the "prompt withdrawal of all U. S. ground combat forces from Japan."

Later, spokesmen said the withdrawal would begin in July.

More to Withdraw

The statement also said that within the next year there would be a substantial reduction in the total U. S. forces in Japan.

"The United States plans still further reductions as the Japanese defense forces grow," the communiqué added.

Secretary of State Dulles told newsmen about 100,000 U. S. servicemen now are stationed in Japan — about half of that total are air force personnel, 20,000 are in the navy, and the remaining 30,000 are ground combat troops.

The ground troops consist of the understrength First Cavalry Division and one regiment of the Third Marine Division.

Discuss End of Tests

The statement said the two men "discussed the early cessation of both the testing and the manufacture of nuclear weapons as part of a first step in a safeguarded disarmament program.

Japan's strong views against further nuclear tests, the communiqué added, are being taken into account in formulating the U. S. position at the current London disarmament talks with Russia, Britain, France and Canada.

The Kishi-Eisenhower statement also contained a significant provision opening the way for revision of the mutual security treaty between the two countries.

New Committee Formed

By agreement, an inter-governmental committee was established to "consider future adjustments in the relationships between the United States and Japan adequate to meet the needs and aspirations of the peoples of both countries."

In diplomatic terms this lifted the lid on the 1951 security pact between the two countries. It was concluded at the time the Japanese peace treaty was signed at San Francisco and provided for U. S. defense of Japan pending development of Japan's own defense forces.

Open-Type Feared in Hepatitis

Hargrave, Perry Plan Inspection

Parents in the fifth ward will petition the State Health Department to investigate raw sewage flowing in open ditches in that ward as a possible cause of infectious hepatitis.

The decision to petition for an investigation was made at a meeting held last night at School No. 4, Lindsley and Delaware avenues, on the recommendation of Alderman Samuel J. Perry (R) who has sought for several years to have the raw sewage

Answer to Clinic Demand

The meeting was called by Dr. Dudley W. Hargrave, Ulster county health commissioner, in light of the present outbreak of seven cases of hepatitis reported to his office, which, yesterday morning, resulted in a delegation of mothers going to the school and demanding establishment of an immunization clinic.

Abandoned Infant Fair

Found Near Mohonk; Parents Sought

Identity of a baby girl found Thursday afternoon by three young girls along the "Gate House" road leading to Lake Mohonk, not far from New Paltz remains a mystery and state police and other police officials are continuing the search for the couple who abandoned the child.

At Kingston Hospital today the baby was reported in "fair" condition. Unknown and unnamed it has been suggested that the name be Rhoda, since the only thing known about the infant is that it was found in the woods along the road.

The investigation was being continued today.

Three Believed Dead in Crash of Training Plane

Washington, June 22 (AP) — A Capital Airlines plane crashed on a training flight today midway between Washington and Frederick, Md. Two persons were killed and a third man aboard was believed dead.

The twin-engine DC3 plunged into the backyard of a home two miles north of Clarksville, Md., shortly after 9 a. m. The scene is on Maryland Route 355, formerly U. S. 240.

A Civil Aeronautics Board spokesman said the plane took off from Washington National Airport at 6:25 a. m. on a four-hour local training flight.

Cause Not Determined

There was no indication what caused the crash.

The names of the three Capital employees aboard were not given out immediately.

Mrs. Jessie Rippon, wife of the owner of a garage near the scene, said two bodies had been removed from the wreckage.

The plane did not catch fire. It fell to earth after smashing through some trees.

Public Offers Hooper's Help To Pay $1,500 Doctor's Bill

Public reaction rallied behind the parents of six-year-old Benny Hooper, rescued from a 24-foot well last May 16, who are now faced with a $1,500 medical bill, the Associated Press revealed today.

The medical bill, presented by Dr. Joseph H. Kris to the parents of the "miracle boy" from Manorcille, N. Y., has whipped up a tornado of comment.

Dr. David B. Allman, new head of the American Medical Association, has advised all parties in the controversial incident, to "sit down" and work out their differences.

But Dr. Paul R. Hawley, director of the American College of Surgeons, took another view when he advised the Hoopers not to pay Kris and let the doctor pay. He said "There are occasions when at least the dedicated profession of medicine can forgive the question of compensation in a near tragedy like that."

Meanwhile, offers of help to pay the bill come from far and near.

The Los Angeles Mirror-News said its switchboard was swamped with calls from persons wanting to contribute up to $500 apiece to aid the Hooper family.

A scheme was launched in California also to have Americans throughout the nation mail pennies to the Hoopers until the bill is met.

At Dallas, Tex., the AP continued, an electrical contractor offered to foot the $1,500 bill. The offer came from S. L. Madewell, a contractor, who said "I don't think the Hoopers are in any position to pay it, and I think he (Dr. Kris) was entirely out of line in presenting the bill."

Say State Called Before

"This is the site," Perry said, "that was proposed as desirable for a land-fill reclamation several years ago."

"At that time," he recalled, "one of my objections was the sewage would have no good outlet, back up in the ditches and be a health menace."

"I even had a man from the state health department in on (Continued on Page 5, Col. 5)

Harriman Is Still Pushing For Anti-Billboard Law

Naack, N. Y., June 22 (AP) — Gov. Harriman said today he would continue his quest for state legislation restricting billboard advertising along new interstate highways and other limited-access roads.

"Even if Washington does not act, New York state should," the governor declared.

Harriman's remarks were contained in a speech prepared for delivery at ceremonies on the New York-New Jersey line marking the opening of a 5-5-mile section of the Palisades Interstate Parkway.

"Our fine new expressways can be made as beautiful as this lovely parkway if we refuse to permit them to be cluttered with billboards," Harriman said.

"Experts tell us it is important for safety as well as to preserve the scenic beauty of the countryside," he added.

Fire on the Heather

The story of Scotland's heroic struggle against tyranny from without and within will be told on the panoramic motion picture screen 7:30 p.m., July 1 and 2 at First Church of the Nazarene, Elmendorf street at Wiltwyck avenue, as "World Wide Pictures presents "Fire on the Heather," newest film produced by the Billy Graham organization.

The distinguished actor Donald Crisp links together a series of unusual dramatic performances which highlight Scotland's rich and colorful heritage.

Filmed entirely on location in authentic settings, the sequences recreate the failure of Roman conquest in the border country.

From Columbia's introduction of Christianity to the King of the Picts, John Knox' battle for reform during the reign of Mary Queen of Scots, and the bloody era of the Covenanters seen through the martyr's eyes of John Brown of Priestkill.

The dramatic scenes are played by an all-Scottish cast led by the gifted actor, Duncan McCrae.

Transitions between historical eras are provided by colorful montages of Scotland today, in cluding the scenic grandeur of her lochs and glens, the color and excitement of the pipe bands, the traditional highland processions, together with graphic coverage of Scotland's heavy industries which are a mainstay of British economy.

Fire on the Heather climaxes with a demonstration of Scotland's efforts to return to the faith of her fathers, as the

Graham Relates Visit to Bowery

New York, June 22 (AP)—The gaunt faces, the shambling steps, the bleary eyes, the bitterness and vanished hope.

Billy Graham saw it all, and he shook his head pitifully.

"All of them—so lost in sickness, desperation and ruin."

That was his comment last night, after a visit to New York's street of forgotten men—the Bowery.

He told the audience at his Madison Square Garden crusade that he and associates spent an hour and a half yesterday on the lower Manhattan street, with its flophouses and cheap bars, its mumbbling, staggering alcoholics with their discolored, puffy flesh and haunted looks.

"I believe," he said, "that if Jesus were here today he would be down there much of the time with these people who need him so greatly."

18,000 at Rally

A crusade spokesman told newsmen that Graham plans to pay other visits to needy points of the city as his crusade continues, meeting people, and talking with them, perhaps in rehabilitation centers.

Attendance at the Garden meeting rose to 18,000 last night, within 500 of capacity. The turnout came after several days of slightly smaller crowds.

The evangelist, in his sermon, said that modern Americans are scared to be different. "Conforming to the pattern of the group keeps as many people from Christ as any single sin," he said.

He added that people are "afraid of what the group will say" if they don't adhere to the world's practices—but not so the true Christian.

Upstate Paper Mill Strike Ruled Illegal

Mechanicville, N. Y., June 22 (AP)—The West Virginia Pulp and Paper Co. says the National Labor Relations Board has declared illegal a 17-week strike against the mill last year.

Local 12915 of the United Mine Workers, District 50, struck the Mechanicville plant from July through November.

The dispute was settled when a two-year contract was signed. It provided for a package that included a wage increase.

George N. Hoover Jr., mill manager, said yesterday the NLRB had notified him it upheld the finding of a trial examiner that the union had violated the Taft-Hartley Law.

The examiner held that the union had not given the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service and the State Mediation Board adequate notice of a disagreement.

The union and its local were ordered to obey the notification requirements.

Farley Forsees Easy Reelection Of Mayor Wagner

New York, June 22 (AP)—Former Postmaster General James A. Farley said last night Mayor Robert F. Wagner will win easy re-election in November if the Democratic party gets its members registered at the polls in the meantime.

Farley predicted a Wagner majority "of over a million votes."

Farley spoke last night at a meeting of the Affiliated Young Democrats. He received a plaque citing his 25 years of service to the organization.

In another prediction, Farley said the Democrats will win "increased gains in the Senate and House" in 1958 and return to the White House in 1960.

Nobel Winner Dies

Traunstein, Germany, June 22 (AP)—Johannes Stark, 83, Nobel prize winning physicist, died here yesterday after a heart attack. Stark won the Nobel prize in 1919 for his work in his spectral analysis of electro-magnetic fields. After teaching at universities in Hannover, Aachen, Greifswald and Wuerzburg, he became president of the Reich Physical and Technical Institute in Berlin. He held that post from 1933, when the Nazis took over the German government, until 1939.

Knowland May Reveal Plans Before August

San Francisco, June 22 (AP)—Sen. William F. Knowland, (R., Calif.), said last night "I may make my position clear" before August on his political plans for 1958. There will be a California race for governor next year.

Knowland, minority leader, has announced he'll retire from the Senate on expiration of his term in December, 1959.

Widespread speculation has reported Knowland would seek election as California governor in 1958 and from that springboard contend for the 1960 Republican presidential nomination.

In the California nomination race Knowland would run against Gov. Goodwin Knight.

BRAIN POWER

We've all been hearing for a long time now about America's shortage of engineers, scientists, teachers and other trained specialists. But perhaps most of us have tended to think of each kind of shortage as an individual, isolated problem.

It remained for the magazine Business Week, in a recent issue, to draw the strands together and show convincingly that we are suffering a general shortage of brain-power which is getting more acute day by day.

We live in an age where attention is given more and more to the automatic operation of industry. Increasingly, mechanical tasks are performed and controlled in the factory by automatic machinery. Electronic computers, communicators and other devices do "brain work" at a mounting pace.

But, as Business Week astutely observed, this is not having the effect of eliminating the need for brains or of spawning a race of robots. On the contrary, it has created a greater demand for brainpower than ever in the nation's history.

For as machinery becomes more complex, as science advances in its applications to industry, men of high intelligence are required as never before to manage and coordinate operations.

The magazine found that representative industrial concerns are leaning far more heavily than formerly upon people of educated intelligence. They are pulling in college graduates at rates five, 10 and 20 times that which prevailed two decades ago.

As industry is compelled to rely on smarter, better-trained people, so too is government, including the now highly mechanized armed forces. And by the same token so must our schools and colleges find more and better teachers to train young Americans to take their places in so demanding a society.

What is happening, said Business Week, is a massive upgrading of the skills required of our whole labor force. The spotlight henceforth will be on those among us who are capable of exercising judgment, imagination and the other high faculties of intelligence.

As an important sign of this trend, the U. S. Labor Department reports that in 1957 for the first time white-collar workers outnumber blue-collar workers in the working force. And the department forecasts that in the next eight years the fastest employment growth will be among professionally trained people. Laborers and farmers will either hold even or decline in numbers.

The marks are clear. American industrial society is switching from brawn to brains even as it reduces more and more work to the automatic level. The big question we face is not whether machines will outdate the human brain. They will not. The question is whether we can find and develop the brains we need to keep our fantastic industrial and governmental mechanism steadily moving toward the higher levels of living it promises for us all.

AID TO AMITY
Apparently convinced that there is no escaping bumper clashes as traffic and parking congestion increases, a Long Island woman has invented and patented a "noiseless bumper cover."

It is intended to minimize noise and danger. In addition, no doubt, it might help prevent heated tempers from generating into physical combat.

TRAVEL NEWS
A recent Reuters news dispatch contained the news that Marshal Zhukov left Budapest by air after having negotiated the arrangement for stationing Soviet troops in Hungary.

The Hungarians are probably glad that Zhukov left their midst. All they seem to wish is that all Soviet troops would follow his example and leave.

THE 10 COMMANDMENTS

Commissioner of Education James E. Allen, Jr., of the State of New York attracted attention to an otherwise rather calm career by agreeing to suppress the 10 Commandments which is a powerful thing for any man to do. Thus far, no mortal man has succeeded in destroying the 10 Commandments, although many have managed to evade them.

It appears that in one of the school districts of New York State, it was planned to have the tablets of this universal law before the children at all times as a standard of rectitude, but there are always small minds who do not protest against Karl Marx but who find Exodus very disturbing on the ground that church and state should be separated which appears nowhere in the Constitution. Deuteronomy is even more offensive to such people although they would fight for the right of James Joyce to be pornographic if he so chooses. I wonder if this problem could be solved if the 10 Commandments were attributed to Hammurabi instead of Moses. They would be the same commandments but the fleas would have nothing to get excited over as the First Amendment could not possibly refer to Hammurabi. He has no church. In fact, most of them never heard of him. Also if the Aramaic or Hebrew instead of the Greek name for Jesus were used, it would keep the buzzing down a bit, as then the quarrelling dervishes would not know to whom reference was being made. We could then celebrate Christmas in all the schools in the language of Syria instead of Greece. Am I not finding wonderful compromises?

This Commissioner Allen has often held views which would indicate that his processes of reasoning require some extraordinary analysis. For instance, in a response to the Supreme Court of the State of New York, dealing with the authority of the City of New York to fire some Communist teachers, the Commissioner holds:

"... Commissioners have held that a board of education could not dismiss a teacher because of marriage, or because a teacher became pregnant, or because a teacher refused to carry on certain extra-curricular activities. Suppose a teacher augmented her income by selling marijuana to children! Allen says:

"... Those who advocate the use of a club to secure information see only a specific possible end-result but have lost track of its effect in the long run on the educational system. If this procedure is possible in the narrow field of membership in the Communist Party, its expansion into other areas immediately opens up...."

Then he says:

"... Communism is the concern at the moment. Next year it may be immorality, or income tax evasion, or something else. It is perhaps just as important for a teacher to be moral, as an illustration, as it is not to belong to the Communist Party...."

And who would say Dr. Allen nay to that? After all, it is our children we entrust to these teachers, not desks and benches. And our children ought to be taught by moral teachers. Would this didactic educator have them taught by immoral teachers? If it is evil for children to be taught by Communists or immoral persons, then the Communists and immoral persons should be fired from the school system.

Dr. Allen objects to "informers" on the children's notion that a tattle-tale is a very dangerous person, particularly as it upsets the morale of others, which it well might do. But suppose a teacher is a bigamist who has six wives in different parts of the state and nobody knows about it until one of the wives tattles and the case comes to court. Who is to be punished for this, the bigamist or the tattle-tale bearer? Which is immoral? This question is not far-fetched. It is basic because when one objects to "informers," why not object to a plaintiff, who is generally the chief informer in a case, providing a bill of particulars. We are becoming so involved in legal sophistries these days that it would seem to be sounder to violate the law than to obey it.

That Body of Yours

By JAMES W. BARTON, M.D.

FOREIGN

There are many ways in which small articles, called in medical language "foreign bodies," may enter the body but of course the most common way is swallowing. You must be on your guard to see that your child can find no small objects with which to play. These youngsters have been known to swallow all kinds of things such as wooden beads, rings, the pin or button eyes of stuffed animals, small coins and safety pins. If the victim is choking or having difficulty breathing, hold him upside down and slap his chest. If this fails, hail a passing car and get him as quickly as possible to the nearest doctor or hospital.

If the object swallowed is small, has no sharp edges and causes no discomfort after it is swallowed, it will not likely cause further trouble. If your child has swallowed a safety pin opened, it may still pass through without causing any damage but the child should be watched carefully and you should get your doctor's advice as soon after the accident as possible.

If the patient is an infant who is getting solids, his diet need not be changed, but an older child should be given a good quantity of bread and milk or water at once and at the next meal. This forms a protective coating around the object and helps it progress down the intestinal canal and out of the body. The stools should be examined carefully during the next week—usually the object will be passed in two or three days. If there is much delay in the passage of the foreign body, your physician may recommend that an X-ray be taken.

On no account should a laxative be given to a child who has swallowed a hard object. Unfortunately, quite a few mothers seem to think that is the reasonable thing to do. The reason it is dangerous is that a laxative, purgative, physic, or opening medicine all stimulate the intestines to contract vigorously. This increases the pressure on the swallowed foreign body and as a result the lining of the intestines may be injured or even perforated.

Serious or even fatal lung disease may be caused by breathing small pieces of peanut or seeds into the lung. Therefore, you should never give young children peanuts and you should warn older youngsters not to "fool around" when they are eating them. If your youngster does choke on a peanut, hold his head and trunk over the side of a bed and try to get him to cough it out. Even if this is successful, you should tell your physician and ask his advice.

Small youngsters sometimes shove beans, beads or other small objects into their ears. If they are near the surface and can be easily grasped with a fine pair of tweezers, you may remove them yourself. Someone else will be needed to hold the child's head absolutely quiet while you are doing this. The danger you want to avoid is that of pushing the object further down the ear canal. Do not try to syringe out a bean or pea with water or even oil as they swell when they are wet and that makes it more difficult to remove them. If you can't get the object out, take the child to your doctor. If your youngster pushes something up his nose, it is best to have it removed by a doctor, also.

At the End of the Communist RainbowWashington News

By PETER EDSON

NEA Washington Correspondent

Washington—(NEA) — Most significant thing about a 1957 business outlook conference held here by U. S. Chamber of Commerce was that not a word of gloom or criticism was heard against President Eisenhower, his budget, his policies, or Modern Republicanism.

On the contrary, all the business leaders but one seemed to be of the opinion that they never had it so good.

They said the second half of 1957 would be better than the first half in almost every line. And 1957 as a whole will be better than 1956, which in many respects was a record-breaker.

Considering that all this optimism came out of that citadel of political and economic conservatism—the U. S. Chamber of Commerce headquarters itself—it was a little hard to believe one's ears.

JUST VISUALIZE the situation. Here were seven scores of big business. Six were directors and chairmen of chamber policy committees:

William A. McDonnell, First National Bank, St. Louis—"We're going so fast we don't realize how prosperous we are."

John S. Coleman, president, Burroughs Corp., Detroit—"The economy is evenly poised."

Revlon, up 17% on 160,200 shares; Roosevelt Raceway (when-issued), up 1 at 6½%; Sunray-Rainbow Oil, off 1 at 3½%; Fargo Oils, off 1/16 at 7 15/16; and British Petroleum, unchanged at $186.40 June 13.

The Rondout Section

June 20, 1957

Editor, The Freeman:

It is not uncommon to hear in and about our city repeated statements depreciating the Rondout section. They emanate in part from persons who either themselves or their ancestors started in business life in that section, and, for reasons satisfactory to themselves, have pitched their tents elsewhere. At times we apprehend these remarks are based upon a desire to justify what they have done, whether it has been for their good or otherwise. It might be well for these transients to remember that despite their exit there still remain many assets, and there are many more in the making. For instance, we still have river transportation facilities, transportation by rail is available, there are good residential sections, the streets are under city maintenance, the same city water supply is available as in other sections. And there are the same educational advantages, the same police and fire protection, many substantial business interests, including the Freeman Publishing Company, the Forst Packing Company, the Hiltbrane Boat Building concerns, the brick industry, the Miron Lumber Company, as well as many fine wholesale and retail merchants.

The natural inquiry is, why do some of these transients use time and energy trying to demonstrate that the Rondout area is, as they put it, dead, that all real interests have moved out, and there is no future there? Well, time may tell a far different story. The answer is in the Rondout notwithstanding the loss of a few shining lights.

We hope that those who have transferred to other sections will find that the new field demands the time and energy they are now using in condemning their former business location. All sections should have a fair place in the general picture, and the Rondout section will not be among the missing when the returns are finally set forth.

Yours very truly,
DOWNTOWN BUSINESS MEN'S ASSOCIATION.

Week's Business & Finance Reported by APMarket Has Setback

New York, June 22 (AP)—The stock market this week suffered its worst setback in five months.

The quoted value of stocks listed on the New York Stock Exchange fell an estimated $5,820,000, based on the decline in the average.

Impressive as this figure is, it should be noted that the total value of all stocks listed on the big board is around 228 billion dollars, so the estimated loss amounts to something less than 3 per cent.

Nevertheless, not since the week ended Jan. 19 have stocks taken such a dive. That was the week the Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey warned that big government spending might lead to a "hair-curling depression." There were rumblings of new credit restrictions, reports of slackening steel demand and a defiant Russo-Chinese statement about the Middle East.

Less Dramatic This Time

This week the news was not quite so dramatic. The attention of the nation was focused on the investigation of the government's monetary policies in Washington, with the emphasis on why interest rates are so high. At the same time, administration officials did not back away from their avowed determination to fight inflation and this meant they would not ease credit.

Meanwhile, the money squeeze grew tighter in the commercial money markets and the U. S. Treasury's short-term borrowing costs climbed to a new 24-year high.

The disarmament talks continued to make prominent news and defense issues were adversely affected.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks fell $4.70 to $181.40. This put it below the old 1957 high of $182.00 reached on Jan. 4. It was this high that was pierced on May 9. A series of new 1957 highs was achieved in succeeding weeks, with the peak established at $186.40 June 13.

Most Active Issues

The five most active issues this week on the American Stock Exchange were:

Jupiter Oils, up 1/4 at 2%; 176,200 shares; Roosevelt Raceway (when-issued), up 1 at 6½%; Sunray-Rainbow Oil, off 1 at 3½%; Fargo Oils, off 1/16 at 7 15/16; and British Petroleum, unchanged at $20.25 at the close.

Fed steers were steady to 25 cents lower than a week ago, despite curtailed receipts. One depressing factor was a decline of $1.00 to $4.00 on wholesale pork cuts. Some weights of loans were $10.00 to $15.00 per hundred pounds lower than recent price levels.

During the week a small lot of butchers topped $21.00, equaling the recent two-year mark, but nothing sold above $20.25 at the close.

Fed steers were unevenly steady to 75 cents lower, and other cattle prices also were down, despite receipts that were about 7 per cent

1,509 Children Given Shots at 6 Salk Clinics

Reports from the six Ulster county Salk vaccine clinics at 11 o'clock this morning indicated that more than 1,500 children were inoculated.

Public health nurses on duty in the various clinics reported that no last minute rush would materialize. Waiting lines at 11 o'clock were at a minimum.

Kingston Hospital reported over 600 processed with about 50 on the waiting line.

Benedictine Hospital reported 321 processed with about 50 on line.

At Saugerties Health Center 260 had received the Salk shots with approximately 10 on the line. Dr. Richard Wenger and Dr. Lester Sonking were in attendance with the public health nurses assigned.

Veterans' Rights, Benefits Listed

Howard C. Shurter, county director Veterans' Service Agency, and William Hartman, state veteran counselor NYS Division of Veterans Affairs, submit another in a series of articles on rights and benefits of veterans, service-men and other dependents.

Social Security — Recently many questions have been received concerning the connection between U. S. Social Security benefits and VA non-service connected pensions. In order to clarify the relationship between these two federal benefits in this explanation veterans have been divided into two groups: (1) totally disabled veterans age 65 and older, and (2) totally disabled veterans between ages 50 and 64. In regard to the first group, i. e., totally disabled veterans age 65 and older, the fact that such veterans receive VA pensions does not affect their Social Security payments which are granted because of age. Moreover, the only effect that social security benefits have on VA pensions is in regard to yearly income limitations. On the other hand, whenever those in the second group, i. e., veterans between the ages of 50 and 64, receive Social Security benefits because of disability and also receive VA pension benefits, an amount equal to the amount they receive in VA pension benefits is deducted by the Social Security Administration from their Social Security benefits. For example, if a veteran between ages 50 and 64 receives Social Security payments for disability in the amount of $108.50 a month and VA pension in the amount of $66.15 a month, his Social Security payments will be reduced to $42.35 a month. The total amount, therefore, received by the veteran from both federal benefits will be $108.50. In such cases, however, when the veteran reaches 65, the amount deducted from his Social Security payments between ages 50 and 64 will be discontinued and he will receive his full amount of Social Security plus his VA pension which is automatically increased to $78.75 at the age of 65. In case of the example, the veteran would then receive a total of $187.25 upon attaining that age. This explanation, of course, assumes that the veteran meets all eligibility requirements for both federal benefits.

Deadlines — Veterans who entered the service from Connecticut and Rhode Island must apply this month to be eligible to receive Korean bonuses from those states. The final date in Connecticut is July 1, 1957. Application forms may be obtained from the Bonus Division, State Treasurer's Office, State Capitol, Hartford, Connecticut. June 30, 1957, is the deadline for the Rhode Island state veteran bonus. Applications should be made to the Korean Bonus Board, 1051 North Main street, Providence, Rhode Island.

New Rulings — The service-connected loss of sizable parts of both feet may entitle a veteran to a government grant for a paraplegic home even though special shoes enable him to walk. A veteran considered to be a paraplegic may obtain a grant

MEETING FIANCÉ'S FAMILY FOR THE FIRST TIME

Dear Mrs. Post: I am going to visit my fiancée's family for the first time next week and I don't mind telling you that I am very nervous over this meeting and do so much want to make a good impression. They are socially prominent people and I am, so to speak, "from the other side of the car tracks." Will you please tell me what to say upon meeting my fiancée's mother and father; also would it be proper for me to kiss his mother? Please, please, help me! Mrs. Post.

Answer: You let them take the initiative and you adapt yourself to whatever they say and do. If his mother comes forward to kiss you, you're ready to be kissed and if she holds out her hand you take it, but the first gesture must come from them and you respond accordingly and don't be hurt if they are formal.

An Exception to the Rule

Dear Mrs. Post: My employer left on an extended trip recently and before he went away he came to my desk to say goodbye. There was an awkward moment of not knowing what to do about shaking hands. I thought he should have offered his hand, but he didn't. Will you please tell me if this was an error on my part? Ordinarily I know that a woman extends her hand to a man, but as this man was my business superior I hesitated to offer my hand.

Answer: You were quite right even though he may have expected you to offer your hand. It is better in a case of this kind to be overreserved than as sum.

A Man's Hat

Dear Mrs. Post: Is it considered bad manners for a man to sit at a lunch counter with his hat on? Would it make a difference if he were alone or with a woman companion?

Answer: At a lunch counter where there is no convenient hat rack, a man wears his hat even when he is with a woman companion.

Where and how future-in-laws should meet after the engagement is explained by Mrs. Post in leaflet E-1, "Engagements." Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail. To obtain

Art Gallery Show Termed 'Refreshing'

Woodstock, June 22—There is always a refreshing atmosphere to the annual sculpture and drawing show at the Woodstock Art Gallery, and this year's show now on view in the Woodstock Artists Association's second show of the season, is especially rewarding.

The sculpture pieces are for the most part small and airy in structure as in Edward Chavez "The Garden."

This year there is also an extensive collection of fine drawings, among them: Elfriede Borkman's "Tired," Barbara Burke's "Horses" in simple telling wash line, Florence Ballin Cramer's delicate "In Mexico," the massive "St. Louis Cathedral, New Orleans," Dave Hufine's expressive "Wind and Trees," Andre Ruellan's "Man With Accordion," Kurt Sluizer's "Minka," Therese Kessel's "Mexican Children," Carolyn Haeberlin's appealing "Young Girl," and Roger Angeloch's sharply defined "Underbrush."

John McClellan has contributed one of his clever and amusing mobiles in wood, "Dangerous Act," and Louise Roome has a charming design for a "Doll's Head" in wax.

The show will be on view to July 10, to be followed by the Woodstock Artists Association's "Presentation Show" from July 13 to July 24. A selected group of artists will be represented by four or more works each.

Years ago when we were inexperably over old shoes. Under her kerchief, neglected blonde hair hangs straight and uncurled around a face deliberately sculptured by artist William Steig for maximum appeal to a little girl's maternal tenderness.

Your child can move on this tenderness.

For the box the doll arrives in contains a booklet on her care. Suggesting her potentialities, it requests a "refreshing" wash for her vinyl plastic face and hands. It describes eight arrangements for the neglected baby that can transform it, not into perfect beauty, but into the less awesome, lovable, familiar kind. It calls for attention to the pretty blue organdy dress, crinoline and party shoes contained in the box and which the doll's new mother will need to "give her a chance to admire herself."

The other evening I heard a noted psychiatrist define human love as our ability "to respond to the potentialities of another person or object."

Now a doll has appeared in the toy shop that, your little girl can love. Her sole purpose is to arouse your child's response to her potentialities.

She wears a patched polka-dot dress that fits her very badly. Her torn black stockings droop.

Mike Bruhn Set To Defend Title In B Division

Mike Bruhn of the Kingston High school varsity defends his Class B New York State Elks Association junior golf title in the second annual state tournament Monday, July 8, at Wiltwyck Country Club.

More than 200 boy and girl golfers are expected for the one-day event, local chairman, Primo Montafia, has announced.

Federal Judge John M. Cashin and Judge Louis G. Bruhn have been named honorary chairmen of the event.

Entries have been received to date from Glen Falls, Liberty, Poughkeepsie, Niagara Falls and Kingston.

Four Divisions

Trophies will be awarded in four divisions: first flight boys, 15 to 18 years and second flight boys, under 15 years; first flight girls, 15 to 18 years, and second flight girls, under 15 years.

All players who have not reached the age of 15 years on the date of the tournament are eligible.

The competition will be 18 holes of medal play.

A cocktail party for chaperones and state and local officials is scheduled at 2 p.m. at Wiltwyck and will be followed by a banquet for all players. Prizes are to be awarded at that time.

Chairman Montafia said entry blanks have been sent to all high schools and golf clubs in the mid-Hudson district. He predicted the local entry would shatter that for the opening event last year at Elmira.

Judy Frank Gains Finals in Golf

Glen Head, N. Y., June 22 (AP)—Defending champion Judy Frank of Purchase, N. Y., and Mrs. Philip Cudone of Montclair, N. J., the 1955 titleholder, met today for the Women's Metropolitan Golf Assn. championship at the Glen Head Country Club.

Miss Devlin, 22-year-old and a member of the Curtis Cup team, dethroned Mrs. Cudone last year.

The final will be at 36 holes over the par 74 layout of 6,552 yards.

Miss Frank gained her final round bracket with a 6 and 5 decision over Mrs. William R. Kirkland, Jr., of Locust Valley, N. Y., while Mrs. Cudone turned back Mrs. Norma Woolworth of Darien, Conn., 5 and 4 in the other semi-final.

Calhoun outweighed his rival 159 to 157%.

Giambra, Calhoun Fight to Draw in Middleweight Go

Syracuse, N. Y., June 22 (AP)—A return bout was in the making today between middleweight contenders Joey Giambra and Rory Calhoun following their bruising battle to a 10-round draw at War Memorial Auditorium.

If it's anything like the "war" they waged last night, fight fans will be in for a treat. Both fighters were stunned but not floored although some of the punches landed would have felled most other middleweights.

A "do or die" rally in the last round enabled the 24-year-old

Giambra to protect both his beaten streak—he had won nine straight—and his fourth ranking spot among the contenders.

Told by his handlers that he had to win the last round "big" the rangy San Franciscan staggered his 22-year-old rival early in the round with a terrific right to the jaw to gain the draw.

Officials Split

The three officials were split as many ways. Judge Nick Gambol had Giambra, the 6-5 favorite, ahead, 5-4-1. Referee Ruby Goldstein voted for Calhoun 4-1. Judge Frank Forbes had it even, 4-4-2 in rounds and five points for each. The AP had Calhoun in front, 6-4.

Thus the supplementary point system, used in New York State judging if the rounds are even, did not avoid a draw since judge Forbes also had the point score even.

Immediately after the telecast thriller matchmaker Billy Brown of the International Boxing Club wanted to rematch them within a month for either here or New York. Both fighters were agreeable to the return but Giambra said he wants to take a month's vacation first.

Calhoun outweighed his rival

159 to 157%.

Dad — Daughter, your young man Ferdinand stays until a very late hour. Has not your mother said something to you about this habit of his?

Daughter (sweetly) — Yes, father, Mother says men haven't altered a bit.

A family man is one who has several small mouths to feed and one big mouth to listen to.

He was wandering aimlessly around in the large department store when the floorwalker approached him.

Floorwalker — Looking for something?

Man — Yes, my wife.

Floorwalker — Describe her.

Man — Well, she's sort of a limousine with heavy tread, and usually runs on low.

An actor who drinks nothing but rye is referred to by a Hollywood bartender as "a ham on rye."

Two expert pickpockets were strolling along the road together. Every now and then one of them would stop, take out his watch and look at it.

His companion began to get annoyed.

First — I say, Jim, what's up with you? Why d'yer keep looking at your ticket? Ain't it going, or something?

Second — I'm not looking at the time. I'm looking at it to make sure that it's still there!

“Shucks,” commented the coach, “that's easy. He doesn't know who you are. Take out with honest generous impulses. When he was a candidate for the legislature, it was the practice at that date in Illinois for two rival candidates to travel over the district together. The custom led to much good-natured railing between them.

On one occasion he had driven out from Springfield in company with a political opponent to engage in joint debate. The carriage, it seems, belonged to his opponent. In addressing the gathering of farmers that met them, Lincoln was lavish in praise of the generosity of his friend.

A hunter in the deep piney woods stopped at a weathered house to ask directions. Finding a woman busily sweeping the front porch with a crawling baby on the floor nearby, he was amazed to see that the child was using a small raw potato for teething purposes, and that a string was tied at one end to the baby's great toe.

Hunter — Would you mind telling me the reason for that string?

Woman — Why, it's to save watching. If he gets choked on the tater he'll kick and if he kicks he'll jerk the tater out.

A famous football coach was watching a game between his team and another college, and observed that one of his famous Four Horsemen was having difficulty with his opposition. The other lad was holding this star, and doing even more than that.

At the intermission, the coach asked this famous star what was the matter with him. “How come that guy is holding you?” he asked scornfully. “Why not go through him once in a while?”

“Well, coach, I don't seem able to do anything with him. I don't know why.”

“Shucks,” commented the coach, “that's easy. He doesn't know who you are. Take out your press clippings and show them to him.”

Welfare Worker — And have you any plans for the future when your sentence expires?

The Incorrigible — Yes, I've got the plans of two joolers and a post-office to start with.

Wifey — When you were courting me you promised that if I accepted, you would never look at another woman.

Hubby — Why, I thought about all those campaign promises.

New Canadian Head Summons Cabinet

Ottawa, June 22 (AP)—Prime Minister John Diefenbaker summoned his cabinet today for a session reportedly aimed at filling remaining gaps in his new Conservative government before flying to a Commonwealth leaders' conference.

The 61-year-old lawyer who took over after 22 years of Liberal rule, was expected to fill the five posts still open. He was sworn in yesterday along with 16 other ministers.

Diefenbaker is slated to make a nationwide radio-television speech tonight. He leaves tomorrow for the prime ministers' conference in London.

During Diefenbaker's two-week absence, Howard Green, 61, of Vancouver, new public works minister, will serve as acting prime minister.

FAIR AND WARMER
EASTERN New York: Mostly sunny, very warm and increasingly humid today and Sunday. High today 85 to 90. Generally fair and warm tonight, low in the upper 50s and 60s. High Sunday 88 to 94.

Arrest Two Men In Melchior Theft, Hunt for Pair

Los Angeles, June 22 (AP)—Police of three states today hunted two men following the arrest of two others and recovery of all but $11,100 worth of $99,770 in furs and jewels stolen from singer Lauritz Melchior and his wife.

Booked on suspicion of robbery, police announced yesterday, were Robert Morgan, 39, an ex-convict, and Alfred J. Pope, 28, both of Los Angeles. Morgan was arrested Friday in a hotel room and Pope early yesterday in an apartment.

Deputy Chief Thad Brown said two blue leatherette suitcases containing $88,670 worth of the loot were recovered.

The suitcases were stolen by three gunmen who invaded the Hollywood Hills home of the tenor and his wife Kleinchen Tuesday night, Brown said. The fourth man was believed waiting in the getaway car.

Five landslides of rain-loosened rocks and dirt cut highways near Stelvio in the north Italian Alps. A workman and a young boy died beneath the slides. Four youths ranging from 11 to 18 years old drowned in flooded streams.

Earlier this week eight persons died in a cyclone and six others were drowned or killed by earth slides.

Floodwaters from the rain-swollen Po continued to mount, surging over more than 25 square miles of fertile land in the river's delta.

Well, perhaps we, like the Indians who met Henry Hudson, will have to come down to the celebration in bark canoes, and wave to the celebration as it goes past our shores, like the Dayline went on June 1 and 2.

Italy Toll Reaches 20 Due to Weather

Rovigo, Italy, June 22 (AP)—Six more deaths from floods and landslides were reported today, pushing the weather-related toll for a one-week period to at least 20 in northern Italy.

Firemen, police and soldiers in rowboats and army amphibious carriers worked throughout the night to seek other persons who might be marooned or in danger from rising floods in the Po delta lowlands.
